Freedom of Information access to BaseCamp communications and records

Previous studies and task forces related to the sanitary and surface water, have utilized Consultants and Construction Managers. Specific data or other information was requested from these past studies and not provided by the City. Efforts were made to obtain these records from the City, utilizing the Freedom of Information Act. (FOIA). These efforts failed because the City allowed these records to remain in the files of the Consultants/Construction Managers, and NOT the City. Hence the records did not fall within the access of FOIA and remain concealed.

Now that the SSWWE CAC has changed most all communication, files, and other data TO the Basecamp website located at the OHM network site, will all of these communications, files, and other data be accessible under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)?

In your response, please consider the May Public meeting presentation that implied that transparent communications was a "hallmark" to the process proposed by OHM and it's subcontractor, Project Innovations.

Freedom of Information access to BaseCamp communications and records

Regarding keeping information secret, no one on the project team has ever suggested keeping project data away from the public or using BaseCamp to conceal information. I believe it is appropriate to all folks to review draft reports before distribution to the public. That said, Lori and I scanned the project library last weeked, identified some documents that needed to be uploaded and the City has done so. (Note - we need to correct the year date for the Jan 9 meeting and note that the video covers the last 90 minutes only - we will do this on Monday.)

I will also "likely" be late for 6pm early start on 13FEB14. I also, "likely," will be more grumpy than usual (imagine that!) because I will be arriving from work and not have had dinner. You may want to "consider" that.

CAC Meeting Dates - Doodle Poll Results

According to the Doodle Poll Results (and a majority of the CAC members have responded), the upcoming CAC meetings and major topics are as follows:

Thursday, Feb 13 (start at 6:00 pm if possible to accommodate [REDACTED] schedule) ... If FDD goes forward, what needs to change?

Thursday, Mar 20 (start at 6:30 pm, end at 9:00 pm) ... If storage is needed, what are the best options?

Thursday, April 17 (note poll was a tie, but I chose Thursday to be consistent ... start at 6:30 pm, end at 9:00 pm) ... Will risks for sanitary back up, increase in the future?

The meeting locations will be announced as they are obtained.

Thanks.

Draft Agenda for Feb 6 Public Meeting

Regarding inviting all FDD households to the Feb 6 meeting, [REDACTED] original suggestion was to invite all respondents - and we are doing that. [REDACTED] then suggested inviting all FDD households. We decided not to do this because of cost of issuing the invitation and the belief that interested FDD households can be reached through media/social media/word of mouth etc. Finally, the Slauson auditorium only holds 200. We expect a full house as it is. BTW - we are a May Public meeting in the work plan and we will get a bigger site if needed.

Regarding the agenda, we expect to receive public comment about the survey during the 65 minute time slot. Our presentation will be around 20 minutes, if that.

Draft Agenda for Feb 6 Public Meeting

Regarding [REDACTED] comment on who will receive invitations to the 2/6 meeting - ALL 859 respondents will receive an invitation - 500+ will get emails (because they gave them to us) and 300+ are getting post cards. I have attached them for your review.

Regarding a press release - we will prepare one for the city.

Regarding an invitation to all FDD homeowners via the post, the project team has decided the most cost effective way to reach the entire group is through 1) post/email invitations to the 859 respondents and 2) social media/press/word of mouth etc. to the rest.

Please note: The Slauson auditorium holds about 200 people. I assume if there is an overflow crowd, we will be scheduling a much bigger facility for the May public meeting.

[REDACTED] – both of you asked for a copy of the case I mentioned.

The case I referenced at the January 9th CAC meeting is Laisy vs. City of Shaker Heights, 33 Ohio Misc 2d 3 (Court of Common Pleas of Ohio, Cuyahoga County) (1986). It is a decision from an Ohio trial court – the equivalent of the Washtenaw County (22nd Circuit) Circuit Court in Ann Arbor – so it has no precedential value, even in Ohio (sorry for the legal talk there – but that means any other court is free to disagree or agree with the analysis and that the decision is limited to the facts and circumstances of the case it decides). Yes, the case referenced in the footnote of my November 25th memo is the same case. I did not find any other case that reached the same or a similar conclusion.

Re-reading the case, I realize it does not actually say that the couple involved is elderly; that was my extrapolation – perhaps incorrect - based on the age of their property, how long they had lived there, etc.

A copy of the case is attached.

Ms.Elias,

Thanks for your presentation at the CAC meeting last night.

During your presentation you mentioned a case where a judge stopped a mandatory FDD because it was too burdensome to the elderly owner involved. Could you send me an email with a pdf of the case and the case citation? Thanks

Is this the same case from trial court case from Ohio that you mentioned in your previous communication to the CAC, but did not discuss?

Thanks in advance

Mr. Mermelstein's Request to Clarify Position re. impending lawsuit

I was CC'd on the email in question. This is the entire email sent early today to Robert, Charlie, City Staff, Council members, and many others.

Dear Robert,

There has been a lot of attention paid at the CAC lately to concerns of CAC members about suits or threats of suits against CAC members. There have been comments in public at CAC meetings suggesting that threats had been made; emails from the City Attorney's Office about the likelihood of suits against them, coupled with offers of indemnity; suggestions on comment threads, etc.

Neither I nor anyone connected with a2underwater in any way or with the impending FDDP litigation has ever suggested that a CAC member would be a defendant in any action by any of the many FDDP plaintiffs-in-waiting. We would appreciate that being cleared up with the CAC, the Chronicle, which reported on one CAC member in particular who claimed someone had threatened him. It wasn't anyone on my end.

What I have said since the kickoff meeting on the FDDP Effectiveness Study on April 23 last year (including to some of your OHM personnel at the meeting) was that participants in the study—including engineers, other contractor personnel, CAC members and Mr. Fleetham—could find themselves as witnesses in legal actions over the FDDP. I don't think this has been explained at all by the City Attorney's Office, nor has the possibility that this might involve more than one proceeding of various kinds and expense that was not mentioned as within the scope of any indemnity. I had a long conversation about this problem with one member of the Mallet's

Creek CAC after the kickoff for that study.

We have understood this witness problem from early on because irregularities in the wet weather evaluation studies were apparent even before the kickoff meeting of the FDDP Effectiveness Study because of the content of the OHM Proposal, including the discussion of Mr. Fleetham's facilitation methods.

There were also irregularities in the Mallets Creek Study that emerged from the circumstances surrounding the botched Public Hearing on the Sewer District SRF. That SRF includes $8 million worth of retention facilities conveniently sized on the assumption that completion of FDDs in the Target Areas would be resumed. So the objectives of various studies depend on the continuation of FDDs. In any event, your own org chart shows that the three studies are basically one study, with FDDs as the common thread.

A posting at Base Camp would be appreciated, with a copy of the post to me. I'd like to have the opportunity to ensure that the disclosure to the CAC that no threats have been made is not spun inappropriately for the CAC's benefit.

Irvin Mermelstein

Please find below an excerpt from a recent email from Mr. Irv Mermelstein about impending FDDP litigation. This excerpt address whether or not CAC members could be/will be defendants. Although Mr. Mermelstein requested a post of his entire email, the below portion is most pertinent to the CAC process.

Greetings CAC members,

Attached to this message, you'll find the Flow Monitoring Report developed by the City's engineering consultants on this project, OHM Advisors.

The Flow Monitoring Report is a compilation of the flow metering and analysis conducted during the first phase of this project. It contains the data and charts that Robert Czachorski has presented at previous CAC meetings.

The Appendix contains the meter sheets and recorded data.

Greetings CAC Members,

We received an excellent suggestion from [REDACTED] to invite all of the survey respondents to the January 16th Public Meeting to hear about the survey results. The SSWWE project team discussed the idea this afternoon and decided to do it; however, we can't effectively contact all of the survey respondents prior to the 16th. We have about 500 emails, but we would need to send post cards to the rest of the folks (300+). They wouldn't get the post cards until Tuesday or Wednesday, and we don't think we would get the participation all of us desire. Plus, we feel many folks would be turned off by a late invitation.

Therefore, we are pushing the public meeting to Thursday, Feb 6th at a site to be determined. Prior to the meeting, we will invite all of the survey respondents. We apologize for any inconvenience this decision may have caused you as you may have contacted folks in your network about the 16th.

We will be scheduling a CAC meeting shortly, and I look forward to getting your feedback on the public meeting agenda.

Also – I wanted you all to know that Judy Hanway has volunteered to participate on the CAC, thus she is receiving this email as a CAC member. I believe she will add value to our efforts! Thanks for all of your energy and support and have a great weekend!

DRAFT FDD Survey Report

I showed up at Clague Middle School on Thursday at 6:30 and no one was there. I did not receive an E-mail or phone call cancelling it.

Nice.

Lori, when I get these messages and click on links, an OHM sign-in screen appears. I try to sign in and can't, and if I say that my username, password is forgotten and I use my email, it does not recognize me. [REDACTED]

Just a quick FYI to the group - when you respond to a message from the basecamp system, it is automatically also being emailed to all of the members who are part of the original message thread. You can see who those members are, and turn off notifications on a per-message basis at the bottom of the message from Basecamp. It should be just below this text.

Take care,
Robert

CAC Status Update

Greetings CAC/Project Team members - here is an FYI on the public engagement activities since our Thursday night CAC meeting -

1. The project team met in Ann Arbor on Friday and decided to push the public meeting to Feb 6 to allow for time to invite all of the survey respondents to the meeting.
2. On Saturday, I had an extended conversation with Judy Hanway regarding the CAC process ... welcome to the CAC, Judy!
3. The City has prepared a response to questions about whether or not the CAC members needed to be vetted by City Council prior to CAC formation (as a preview, they didn't but a formal response will be issued soon).
4. We entered 39 more survey responses on Monday and began a recalculation and quality check on the survey results.
5. Lori has or will shortly furnish the survey database to the City for geo classification and problem solving analysis.
5. We are in the process of drafting a full survey report (just edited draft #2).
6. We hope to have a fully vetted report including comments on BaseCamp by the end of the week (sorry about the overpromise last week to be done by today ... the full report, versus the highlights that we passed out, is taking more time than I imagined).
7. I will be issuing a Google poll on Feb/March/April dates for future CAC meetings within two days.

Please call me if you have any questions!

Charlie

Meeting Summary for December 12th CAC Meeting

I intended to distribute and review this document at Thursday's CAC meeting, but was late to due the fact that my car overheated. Please let me know if you have any changes. If not, the next step will be loading it on the City project website.
